SUMMIT PREACHERS

The Reverend Candace Lewis is an ordained elder from the Florida Annual Conference. Upon graduation from Gammon Theological Seminary, she was appointed to plant a new church. Candace and a team of committed laity have spent the last 12 years successfully planting the New Life Community UMC, a new African American congregation in Jacksonville, FL. Their new book, A New Way-Planting, Starting & Revitalizing Ministries (2009), will be available through Discipleship Resources soon. Candace is a sought after preacher, leader, coach, consultant and passionate servant of the church.

Dr. Winston O. Worrell serves as Director of the World Methodist Evangelism Institute, a ministry of the World Methodist Council and Emory University, where he has served for the past 18 years. He holds a doctorate in evangelism from Emory University. His most recent text is a 9 session training workbook with teacher's guide on CD, designed to help local congregations and individual Christians create and carry out their holistic missional ministry for Jesus Christ. This resource is called: "Becoming More Missional for Christ: An Organizing Model."
